

BEAUTY SPECIALIST
TELLS SECRETA Beauty Specialist Gives Simple Home Made Recipe to Darken Gray HairMrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair:"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/2 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the drugist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Adv.

IN NORTH JERSEY BY SHORTAGE IN COALCutting Off of Power by Service Company Renders 10,000 Idle—Situation Worse Here.With more than a thousand industrial plants in Northern New Jersey closed through the shutting off of power by the Public Service Electric Company and the stream of bituminous coal from the mines steadily di-minishing, the full effects of last week's complete paralysis both in the Pennsylvania coal fields and on the railroad lines was felt in the metropolitan district today.Administrators in charge of the Tidewater Pool, which handles bituminous coal for the bunkering of ships and maintenance of public utilities plants both in New York City and the manufacturing centers thickly scattered along the Jersey shore, stated emphatically today that the needs of the ships awaiting coal to move the heavily congested war supplies at local rail ends will be conserved before any bituminous coal is permitted to go to public utilities."Emergency coal will be conserved for the use of ships," said Deputy Tidewater Commissioner J. W.
Searles, "and those industries not able to get coal from their regular supply sources will not receive any from the Shipping Board pool until all essential ships are fueled."Today Newark, Paterson, Passaic, Jersey City and Hoboken all felt the effects of the coal shortage as the Public Service Company's great power plant on the marshes back of Hoboken. Industrial paralysis extended as far south as Trenton and to every plant which relied upon the electric power from the company's feed wires for the operation of its machines.Those manufacturing plants which operated under steam or electricity generated by their own engines were limited in operation to daylight hours, for their lights were cut off.
It was estimated today that 1,000 to 10,000 workmen in the affected zonewere temporarily out of employment because of the power lack.The Public Service heads have sent scouts out along the railroads leading up to the mines in an effort to expedite expected shipments of fuel, long overdue. They were told by the Tidewater Pool officials today they could expect no immediate help from that quarter.The public utilities corporations in New York are said to be in a better condition than their Jersey neighbor, Harry T. Peters, Chairman of the Fuel Conservation Committee, said today that only two such companies here faced a shortage; others, with the exception of the Interborough, have fuel supplies for two weeks. The Interborough has storage facilities for only a week, but these are filled with coal.The chief element in the bituminous shortage now is the scarcity of empty cars at the mines. When last week's bitter weather was at its height every effort was made by the railroads to break a path through for laden cars bound for the Jersey terminals. Once dumped, these "wom-piles" piled up on sidings to the bewildering number, and the railroad traffic chiefs are only commencing now to unravel the jam.As an example of the car lack in the soft coal fields, it was said today that one mine which had a daily allotment of fifty cars received but six Monday.A. H. Wiggin, State Fuel Administrator, said today he had received no report from National Administrator Garfield of the tentative proposal to discontinue the Monday suspension of business and industry."The shortage of coal is great enough to warrant the utmost conservation," was the only reply Mr.
Wiggin made when he was asked if he favored a continuance of the "Garfield Mondays." "The exemptions have been so many that there has been a great reduction of the saving otherwise possible under the Monday closing plan."Coal dealers and mine men at No. 1 Broadway proposed to hold a severe in all its disagreeable intensity until mid-April.

YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFFHair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.For a few cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, luxuriant and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this —moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, soothes and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and wavy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—Adv.FREE TO

OF GAS FROM RENT
IN HEATLESS FLATSMothers, Babes in Arms, Among 630 Who Appear Against Bronx Landlords.This was tenants' day in Municipal Judge Robitzek's court in the Bronx.
Six hundred and thirty separate and distinct cases growing out of the bitter strife between landlords and tenants were called—by far the largest number of such cases actions to come up in court at one time.The tenants were victorious. In many cases they were granted reductions in their rent to cover the costs of heating cold flats with gas, and where evictions were ordered the tenants were given until next Tuesday to get out. Thus they obtained their apartments rent free for more than half a month.A packed courtroom heard the decisions. Women, many with babies in their arms, made up most of the crowd. Several wept as they told of their sufferings in cold apartments during the below-zero weather.Some of the cases were put over until tomorrow and in others an adjustment was reached before formal court action was taken.Many tenants were directed to show their gas bills for last fall and they were compared with the amounts paid during the cold spell. The difference, amounting usually to between $2.50 and $4, was taken off the rent. About 60 per cent. of the cases were adjusted on this basis.Judge Robitzek censured the landlords severely in cases where it was shown they had made no efforts to get coal from the Fuel Administrator.
Tenants in many cases said there was no heat or hot water in the flats and in some instances no water at all for from five to ten days, exposed to frozen pipes which the landlords made no attempt to have repaired.A typical case was that of Mrs.
George Muller, of No. 415 East 160th Street, who was in court with a baby and who said she has two more children at home, one convalescing from an automobile accident. She has no money to pay the rent now and her husband will not get paid until a week from to-morrow. The Judge granted her the right to stay in the apartment until next Wednesday morning and said the Marshal undoubtedly would arrange another day of grace.More than 100 eviction warrants were applied for to-day, making about 1,500 since the middle of January, and it is expected that 200 more will be sought before the end of the week. The landlords still have the upper hand, as they can refuse to accept rent and arbitrarily order tenants out. And the charge is made that rents have been raised since the trouble began.Tenants who move find it almost impossible to get apartments at the same figure they had been paying.
The landlords are planning vigorous steps against the new tenants' union of 10,000 in the Bronx.The tenants' strike in Washington Avenue, begun on Monday, continued today. Women picketed the street and carried banners telling of their grievances against the landlords.Bernard Gussow Exhibits at the Jewish Art Shop

By W. G. Bowdoin.

The one-man show by Bernard Gussow at the Jewish Art Shop, No.
132 Second Avenue, between 11th and 12th Streets, contains forty-four catalogue numbers. The exhibition opened on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 3, with a private view and will be continued until Feb. 17 from 9 to 9 P. M. daily.Mr. Gussow takes himself and his art very seriously. Sometimes he even allows his enthusiasm to lead him to excess in this direction. He also specializes upon the interpretation of the Ghetto, although he has not hesitated to try his painting brush upon landscapes and portraits.He is first, last and all the time under the benighting influence of modernism. He therefore paints with solidity and absolutely without regard to aestheticism.His "Summer" illustrates both his attainments and his limitations. The picture is not wholly lacking in decorative features, but the colors are crass and blatant and seemingly not under his full control. The picture as a whole stands out therefore as an extremely crude in execution.The same objection obtains when his "Group in Meadow" is considered.
This picture is concerned with a picnic party, consisting of four figures in a landscape setting and is executed in pastel, as most of the exhibition numbers also are. There are spots of color in the pastel that are individually charming, but the exhibitor carefully eschews detail as he would avoid the black plague."End of Day," is a study of heads that crowd the picture. Some of the expressions secured in the free treatment affected by him are not only typical but they are happy. Most of them, however, are of the "stare" registrations crudely executed."Greenwich Village" is better as an interpretation of night. This translation of Bohemian life suffers no loss from the lack of detail. It is the sense of the strength. The suggestion of night is eminently there and the incidental light effects introduced are pleasing."Under the Bridge" extracts much from the chosen theme. The bridge structure throws its horizontal over the crowd in the place of the sky, and in the distance are flashing light spots that are filled with vitality."Near Manhattan Bridge" is composed along similar lines, but is more highly developed. The light streamsout from the shop in the foreground and fairly petrifies the glow—incidentally throwing the introduced figures into strong and very bold reliefs."Thursday in Rivington Street" is a sympathetic and fairly good translation of the pushcart diet, with its typical crowds in the low lights.
"A Head" (No. 18) is a bazaar in treatment. The secondary lines that resemble the coastal lines on a map are prominent without being pleasing.
Mr. Gussow's "Head of a Man" and his "Head of a Girl" are both weak in their individual appeals.
His "Lady With Violin" is infinitely better, both as to pose and color as well as finish.DROP IN COAL FOR CITY; Greater Movement of Coal Than for Many Weeks.WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Reports to the Railroad Administration to-day indicated greater movement of coal than for many weeks, owing to favorable weather over most of the country. In the Middle West grain is beginning to reach central elevators in considerable quantities. R. H. Ashton, Regional Director for the West, predicts that the movement will increase daily and that practically no soft corn will spoil before being transferred to drying elevators.
